Welles Reimagined By Alessandro Munge

in Black Steel & Opaque
Smoked Black

Alessandro Munge has developed a beautiful narrative infused with dynamic and bold fashion references inspired by Rhythmic Dance. The original Welles was deconstructed and rebuilt using a new support system inspired by the imagery, thus creating a significant visual divergence and a reenergised dialogue between the interconnected elements.

The beautiful jewel-like connecting bracket has also been highlighted, making it a hero on the front of the glass. While the fixture's volume is radically different, the modular qualities remain with an ability to extend stems for extra tall ceilings and multiply the globes for larger spaces. This flexibility makes it a truly versatile and playful product inviting designers to create bespoke configurations.
